

Location: US (Remote)

Position Type: Internship

Ideal period: 3-6 months

About Us

Wahed is the world's largest Islamic fintech, managing over $2 billion in assets for more than 450,000 investors across global markets. Our mission is to make halal investing accessible to everyone.

About the Role

We are looking for a Community and Partnerships Intern to join our global marketing team. This is an execution focused role for a natural leader who is curious, proactive, ready to lead and deeply cares about Islamic finance.

In this role, you will help build relationships with campus groups, Muslim Student Associations (MSAs), mosques, and local communities across the US. You will take ownership of digital community building, while writing community content and driving engagement.

Key Responsibilities

- Identify, contact, and build partnerships with campus leaders, Muslim Student Associations, mosques and local community groups across the US.
- Lead organic community engagement and active discussions across online spaces, online forums and digital subcultures.
- Support and lead the planning and execution of online community events and webinars.
- Write community newsletters, email outreach, event copy and digital updates focused on alternative investments and Islamic finance.
- Research community trends, audience questions and trending financial topics within student and professional networks.
- Take ownership of specific grassroots outreach projects and community engagement initiatives under the guidance of the marketing team.
- Maintain outreach trackers, partner lists and event schedules to keep community initiatives moving forward.
- Work with our brand ambassadors on campaign execution.

Required Skills and Experience

- Excellent written English and interpersonal communication skills, with natural leadership ability.

- Strong familiarity with Reddit and online community platforms.
- Proactive attitude with the confidence to reach out to campus and community leaders.
- Proactive, highly organized and dependable, with the drive to both lead and support projects from start to finish.
- Ability to work independently, manage daily tasks and deliver work to deadlines.
- A deep interest in fintech, Islamic finance and alternative investments.

Desirable

- Leadership experience within a university Muslim Student Association (MSA), student club or local community organization.
- Experience moderating or actively contributing to subreddits, online forums or digital subcultures.
- Experience organizing virtual events, host panels or managing online webinars.

Application Process
